6. Parade boots (aka Boots Ankle/Shoes) will have the entire boot including the toe, heel, and sides polished to a reflective shine, along with blackened soles.
 - a. Parade boots will be straight laced, with the top two eyelets being captain barred.¹
 - b. The remaining laces will be tucked into the boot securely, to ensure that the laces never show.
 - c. Boots will not be modified with any type of metal cleats, hobnails or other metal attachments to heel or sole.¹
 - d. Refer to Figure 9 for straight across lacing of Parade Boots.

7. Headdress will be formed with a trench and will have no lint on it;
 - a. The cap brass will be positioned over the left eye.
 - b. The beret itself will sit level across the entire head, parallel to the ground with approximately a two-finger space between the beginning of the beret and the brow bone.¹ Refer to Figure 10.

8. The beret will be formed with a trench and will have no lint on it. Breaking in a new beret takes time. After you have adjusted the tightening band to a comfortable fit and tied it off, dampen (not soak) the beret and place it properly on your head. Wear until dry. Berets are pure wool and will shrink considerably. Repeat if needed to get that perfect form fit. Keep it on until it is dry or it may shrink too much to fit. When you have it just right, finish by tucking the “tail” into the adjustment band. Refer to Figure 11.
